Last update November 30, 2025

Welcome to <https://framedinbelarus.net/> ("Website"), operated by Stitchit z.s. (association), hereinafter referred to as "Stitchit", with its registered seat at Závěská 1612/4b, Hostivař, 102 00 Praha 10, Business ID No. 17629454 (also referred to as "we," "us," "our").

The use of this Website is subject to the following terms and conditions and the conditions of our Privacy Policy (available here). By visiting and using our Website, you acknowledge that you have read, understood and agreed to these terms and conditions.

The Website is part of a nongovernmental nonprofit project (as described below) and does not offer any goods or services.

The purpose of the Terms and Conditions is to set mutual rights and obligations in relation to your participation in the project (as described below) or otherwise use our Website.

1. Terms of participation in the project #FramedinBelarus.

1.1. General terms and aims of the Project.

#FramedinBelarus (the "Project") is a long-term socially engaged art project, which aims to pay attention to human rights violations in Belarus by involving people to stitch stories of political prisoners.

By participating in the Project, you symbolically become an "ambassador" of a political prisoner and commit to embroider the story of this person according to the pattern you will be provided by Stitchit and send the finished embroidery to Stitchit. All stories are equally important in this Project, so each political prisoner is embroidered only once.

Via this Website, after you agreeing to participate in the Project and confirming these terms and conditions, you will receive detailed instructions from Stitchit that will guide you from the preparation stage to sending your finished work.

Your participation in the Project is voluntary. However, if you decide to take part in the Project, it shall be governed by these terms and conditions.

We reserve the right to further develop, limit or discontinue the Project at our sole discretion.

1.2. Age Requirements

You may participate in the Project if you are at least 18 years old; however, children of all ages may participate in the Project if properly enabled by a parent or legal guardian.

1.3. Timeline

The approximate embroidery time per work is 15 to 30 hours depending on how skilled you are in cross-stitch.

Unless otherwise stated, the standard time frame for completion of the work, which is part of the Project, is 2 months. In case you need more time, please inform us by email as soon as possible.

If you do not finish your work within the specified time frame and do not inform us you need more time, we may drop you from the Project and pass the pattern to someone else. We regret these strict rules, but we need to create some boundaries, so the Project does not turn into chaos.

If you decide to withdraw from the Project for any reason, or if you will not be able to finish your embroidery work on time, please let us know by email as soon as possible.

1.4. Your work

Your work (namely consisting of the embroidery, together with accompanying photo(s) and comment(s)) becomes a donation to Stitchit that is running this Project and it becomes its property – at the moment you send (relevant part of) the work to us or upload it on the Website.

1.4.1. Embroidery

You are expected to follow the provided design of the Embroidery and the provided instructions so that the Project and all its parts are consistent and can thus jointly communicate the message of the Project.

The association Stitchit can publish and exhibit your Embroidery, communicate it to the public on the Website or otherwise use it by all means of use, as it sees fit for the purpose of this Project.

The original Embroidery may be sold provided that any income generated from such sale is used for the benefit of the Project or other activities of Stitchit.

You are responsible for obtaining the necessary materials and embroidery supplies - canvas, embroidery thread, and other materials for embroidery. You are responsible for shipping the Embroidery (and accompanying materials, as applicable) to Stitchit and covering the costs of such shipping .

1.4.2. Photo

An important element of the Project is the photo documentation of your embroidery process and final work.

Please note that it is mandatory to attach at least one photo (of your embroidery process and final work) due to the importance of protection of our volunteers, colleagues during meetings, and for the process completion confirmation.

These photos will be published on our Website next to your Embroidery and may be used in print and online publications, exhibitions, etc. and in all ways of use in the context of Project presentations.

You can send us the photo(s) printed together with the Embroidery or in electronic form via email or via the Website according to the instructions from Sticht.

1.4.3 Personal comment

We will also ask you to write a short comment about your experience embroidering a political prisoner and participating in the Project. Embroidery is a slow-paced process that allows you to gain a better experience and understanding of the story you will be working on. We would love to hear your thoughts, as they may become an addition to your work.

This comment will be published on our Website next to your Embroidery and may be used in print and online publications, exhibitions, etc. and in all ways of use in the context of Project presentations.

Formats

We kindly ask that the text be provided in two formats:

- Handwritten version, submitted together with the embroidery.
- Digital version, sent either by email or uploaded via the Website according to the instructions from Sticht.

The handwritten version is more suitable for exhibition purposes, while the digital version is easier to use in publications and to translate into other languages.

Languages

Please write the text in English if possible. Otherwise, it may be provided in your own language. You are welcome to provide a comment in both languages.

1.5. Safety

For safety purposes, especially in case you are in Belarus or Russia, returning to these countries, or simply worry about your loved ones, we ask you to be on the safe side and not disclose personal data on the photo(s) or in the personal comment(s) that could identify you.

Please, be aware that whatever is part of the work, including part of the Photo(s) and Comment(s) can be published on the Website, at different exhibitions, installations, happenings and other events, and do not include any information that you do not want to be published and used in public.

1.6. Licence

You grant us the authorization to publish your work (Embroideries, Photos and Personal Comments) and any part of it and to use your work or any part of it by all means of use, without any limitations as to the territory (whole world), time (whole term of duration of such rights) and quantity of use, always for the purposes of the Project or other activities of Stitchit or other related activities.

You grant us the authorizations to edit and process the work or any part of it (including translations and anonymizations of data), to connect it with other works or other elements and to include it in any other works or collections of works.

We are not obliged to make use of the granted authorizations or to publish or exhibit your work. In relation to the authorisations granted, we can grant sublicences to third parties.

We will usually mention your name next to your work, but we are not obliged to do so. You may ask us not to mention your name next to your work and we will respect such a request.

If you choose to capture your likeness, other personal attributes or any attributes of your private life within the Embroidery, in the Photo(s) or mention those in the Comment(s) you thereby give us your consent to publish and use all such materials to the full extent of the rights granted hereunder to use the work.

If any of the Photos is captured by a third party or if there are third parties or any works of third parties captured in any of the Photos or mentioned in the Comment(s), you are responsible for obtaining their consent, so you can provide us with license hereunder in respect of all such rights to such materials to the full extent of the rights granted hereunder to use the work.

You are responsible for providing us with full rights to the work so that we do not need to seek any consent of any third party to use the work – except for the author of the design of the Embroidery and except for that you are, of course, not expected to provide us with a consent of the political prisoner whose story you are embroidering.

1.7. Fees

Any licences and authorizations hereunder are granted as free of charge. The transfer of ownership to your work is a (free of charge) donation to Stitchit.
